Let's introduce our firm

MAPLE LEAF Human Resources Management is an executive search firm with operations in Canada and Latin America.

Our reputation has been built on our ability to search the right candidates who can contribute capably to our client's corporate achievements.

Executive Search for Leading Companies with Interests in Latin America

We are specialists in providing professional services as Executive Search Consultants for recruiting professionals to companies with commercial interests in Latin America. We work dedicatedly, effective and efficiently to recruit the right people for the right company.

As international recruiters, we are able to search and find the right candidate in Latin American countries. Due to our vast experience, we are quite sure that your organization will find, in today's complex market, proficient and excellent candidates that will be the right fit for your business strategic direction.

Our clients' range span across several industries, from the world's largest companies, medium-sized business and entrepreneurial startups.

At MAPLE LEAF HRM we partner with our clients to provide them personalized and accurate solutions to their most significant needs, creating long-lasting and competitive advantages.

As a result of our 25+ years of expertise as global HR Consultants, we can develop new insights making companies more capable and competitive.

Our competitive advantage

We understand your organization has a great need for a reliable professional in order to plan and maintain sustainable growth worldwide.

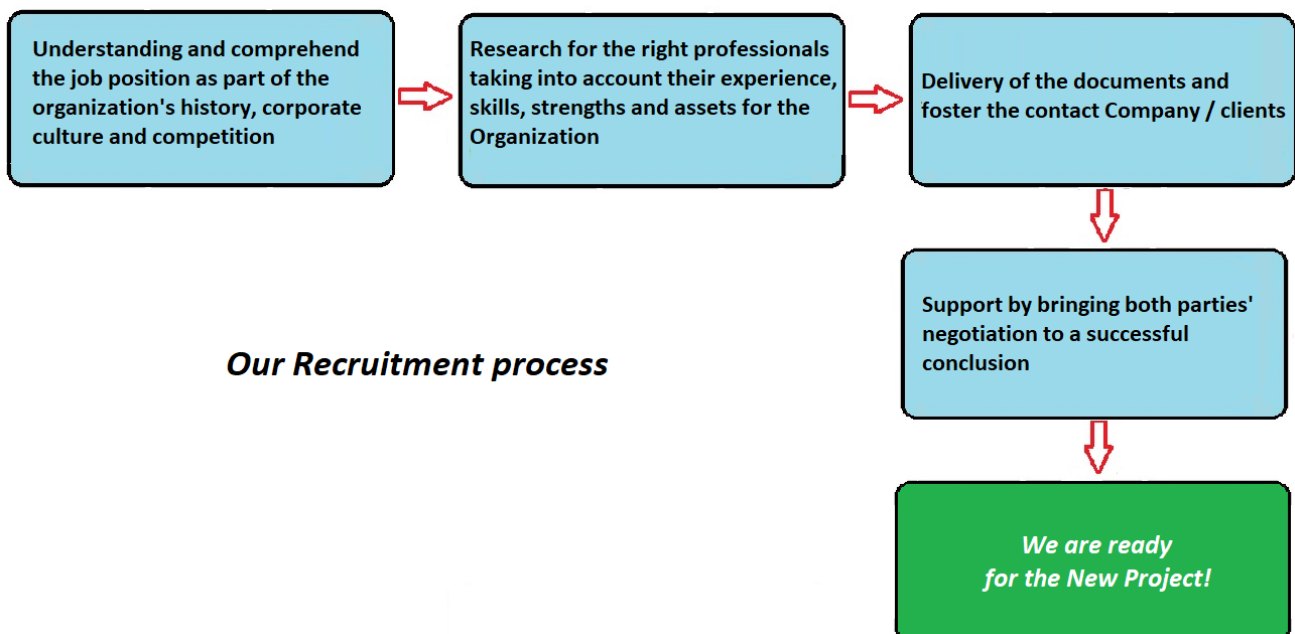

Therefore, the search for skilled and efficient staff makes a large difference amid your competitors and you.

Working with you to fulfill your needs and empower your presence in Latin America is our main goal.
